

Wilfredo Nieves, Ed.D.

Dr. Wilfredo Nieves is the president of Middlesex Community College in Middletown, Connecticut. His career in higher education spans 30 years and includes teaching, counseling and senior-level administration. Prior to his present appointment, he was the vice president for Academic Affairs at Baltimore City Community College in Baltimore, Maryland, and the dean of Liberal Arts at Essex County College in Newark, New Jersey. Dr. Nieves received his undergraduate degree from Kean University, New Jersey. He has also earned two master's degrees from Columbia University and a doctorate in counseling psychology from Rutgers University.

Dr. Nieves has had extensive involvement in the development and assessment of educational programs at all levels and is recognized for his expertise in interpersonal relations and communication. He has served students and the community not only as a teacher, administrator, counselor, advisory board member and facilitator, but also as an advocate for quality education for all people.

Dr. Nieves has received numerous industry and civic awards and is an author and presenter. He has also provided leadership for various community, professional, and national organizations, including serving on the board of directors for the Middlesex County Chamber of Commerce, Community Renewal Team, Latino Community Services and Middlesex United Way. Dr. Nieves is also president of the Middletown Rotary Club.